BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION
—AND—
Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE simple in its construction and easily kept in order should make a tight lock-stitch alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton thread, or silk, directly from the spool and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin with rapidity, and without changing the tension It should also be able to make the tension greater or less of both the under and upper threads and with unit duty; and should have a straight needle curved one being liable to break

The needle should have a perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer should stitch, fell, run and gather, and always ready to work

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work and of using different colored thread or silk above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily and make but little noise

It should have a wheel feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the underside, or ravel

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

FRIDAY MORNING APRIL 25, 1862

A few Facts for Consideration

As the time draws near for the election, the question is suggested, What shall we be expected to yield of our former principles in order to effect the entire union of Union men? How far are we expected to give up the doctrines peculiar to our parties as republicans or as democrats? and how great is this action to effect party record in the future? These are questions of some importance in view of the great matter at issue before us Although the paramount question of Union or disunion absolves in a measure all party prejudice, still most voters confess their preference for those men who fought under the same banner with themselves, when the issues before the people were simply upon the distinctive features by which parties were known as democrats and republicans. And these things will have influence in the present political campaign The democrat will go as far as he can consistently with the best interests of the Union cause, to maintain the principles peculiar to the organization of which he was formerly a member; and so of the republican All patriots will use every possible means in their possession for the success of the Union movement against any and all the enemies of our country and our liberties We cannot reasonably doubt that many will act in the approaching struggle with an eye to the fact that those issues which are now merged in the greater one forced upon us by the rebellion, may rise in the future, when our national perils shall be past, and that party lines may again be drawn. Of this fact, secessionists, under the specious title of peace men, will endeavor to take advantage to secure the votes and influence of not a few, who are in no respect sympathizers with the treasonable schemes of their deceivers. All the Judas kisses they are continually bestowing upon the Constitution, and the weeds of mourning in which they "walk up and down in the earth" to manifest their grief over our country's calamities, and the loud and long professions of devotion to "the Union as our fathers made it," are only inventions which their frenzied brains have hatched, and their traitorous hearts have adopted, in order to avail themselves of the natural pride of party and of nativity which, in a greater or less degree, all possess, and thus labor to secure success to the grandest and basest conspiracy ever concocted since Satan and his minions rebelled against God in Heaven.

To defeat this scheme, it is all important that ever one should understand precisely what he is expected to concede, of his former principles, to support the Union ticket

We assure you, one and all, you are not asked or expected to yield anything Being a union man, and in favor of the prosecution of the war made by the existing Administration, is not inconsistent with being a patriotic democrat. All that you were before, you are at liberty to be still, without in the least hindering you from supporting the alliance made upon other and higher issues than those formerly prominent. Neither are you compelled to lay aside your principles as a republican, in order to act in concert with those you once opposed because of the characteristics which classed them as democrats Those issues are not as a matter of necessity to be swept into utter annihilation by the proposed co operation of Union men for the success of a Union ticket; but they are to slumber till the Protean monster of secession is driven from our country.

These are views which properly present themselves at this time, and we indulge ourself in the expression of them But when secessionism is put down—and a new system of national policy from the necessities of the times shall be inaugurated, which may render absolete old issues it will not be strange if new political parties are formed, each with different principles, under new leaders, and each, in their own view, contending for measures and principles which they severally believe to be for the highest welfare of the country. This may be so It is not unlikely that it will be so, and hence the great propriety in laying aside old views, and when we have secured a country, a government, and a home where we can enjoy all our claimed rights, we may again separate in policy, if we chose to do so, having always in view the perpetuation of our Union and the Constitution Let our motto as politicians be, EXCELSIOR!

The Yreka Union calls the rush from that section to the Salmon river mines, a Bull Run stampede, and says the Fraser river excitement is nowhere.

B F Dowell Declines

JACKSONVILLE, OGN, April 18 '62

To the "Democratic Committee" of Jackson County, Oregon

Gentlemen —I have learned that, at the Democratic meeting held at Jacksonville on the 5th inst., I was nominated as a candidate for State Senator, and your Chairman handed me, a few days since, the resolutions which were passed at the meeting

As I cannot support the Resolutions, I am compelled to decline the nomination In my opinion, "the Republican party" are not wholly to blame for our present difficulties, but the fanatical Abolition party North, and the Secession Nullification party South, are both to blame for the present war In my judgment, no State has the constitutional right to peacefully secede from the Union without the consent of a majority of the other States of the Union, or without the consent of Congress

I have opposed Nullification, Abolition, Secession and Disunion, from a boy to the present time, and I intend to do it, and to live in the Union and under the protection of the Government and the Stars and Stripes of the United States, as long as life shall last

I am politically opposed to many of the acts of the President and his appointees; yet I am for my Government, and for the perpetuity of the Union and its constitutional republican institutions

The American people should submit to many wrongs, and try to correct the evils at the ballot box before they resort to the force of arms, and attempt to destroy the most free and the best Government on earth A good citizen should avoid doing any act which cannot benefit himself, and which he knows will irritate and annoy his neighbor So in politics The citizens of the United States, North and South, should obliterate party lines, and repeal the obnoxious laws and ordinances on both sides

Hoping that a spirit of conciliation and compromise may prevail, that the Fugitive Slave Law may be faithfully executed that the Personal Liberty bills, North and Secession laws and ordinances, South, may be repealed so that peace, harmony and confidence may be restored, and that our Star Spangled Banner may soon wave triumphantly and peacefully throughout every county in every State, I have the honor to remain,

Yours, very respectfully,
B F DOWELL

J. N T Miller, and others, Committee

Sensible to the last We always believed that Mr Dowell had a little too much sense to be caught in a secession trap. Who comes next? There still is room! There are a few more names on that ticket that ought to come off, and then it would remain the genuine article. Our columns are still open, gentlemen Repentance is a good thing for the soul, and renunciation, where there is a need of repentance, as in the cases of Mr Hoffman and Mr Dowell, sometimes becomes a necessity Secession commenced with stealing forts and arsenals, navy yards and mints, and now it busies itself in abortive attempts at hiding the character of Union men —Jacksonville Sentinel.

From the Upper Columbia

The Mountaineer contains the following items

JOHN DAY MINES —A large number of persons are now out on the John Day River, and the richness of these mines will soon be placed beyond peradventure The deserted cabins of Buell Woodward and his party are occupied by a company of miners and that vicinity is being thoroughly prospected The road by the way of Rock Creek is now generally followed, and is said to materially shorten the distance to the John Day mines Parties disposed to try their luck in these mines need have no fears of an Indian attack

THE RAILROAD —The work of grading for the Dalles and Des Chutes Railroad is now completed as far as Five Mile Creek, and the laying of the rails is rapidly progressing—At least one half the road will be in working order before the close of May, and brought into use for the purpose of transporting freight

THE RUSH.—Our town is crowded with strangers, the great majority of them on their way to the mines All the available places for lodging have been appropriated to that purpose, but still hundreds are unable to find accommodations and are compelled to camp out. At this time the beach in front of the town is covered with tents, and up Mill Creek, and in fact in whatever direction the eye is turned the first thing that meets the gaze is the canvas houses of those who are here on their way to the mines

SUICIDE —A miner named R Holthrum who has been stopping at the Dalles for several weeks back, committed suicide on Monday afternoon, by shooting himself through the head with a Colt's revolver Deceased had been under treatment of Dr J W Hunter for the measles and it is supposed that the rash act was committed in a moment of insanity He had gone to his room about 5 o'clock in the evening, and laid down on his bed An hour later a friend went to call him to supper and found him dead. The weapon of destruction—an eight inch six shooter —was laying on the pillow by the side of his head and the bed was deluged with blood Deceased was from Alleghanytown, Sierra county, California, and was about 35 years of age

RUMORED MASSACRE —A rumor has been current for several days to the effect that the Indians in Grande Ronde Valley have massacred the whites We have been unable to trace the report to any reliable source, and are inclined to the opinion that the whole story is a hoax

POWDER RIVER MINES —The excitement in relation to the Powder River mines bids fair to eclipse the Salmon River furor Within the last ten days it is computed that not less than a thousand men have left the Dalles for Powder River, and still the rush continues.

Thirty four guns were fired in Yreka in honor of the great Union victory at Pittsburg Landing, Tennessee In the evening the Court House and Journal office were illuminated.

Politics in Washington County

HILLSBORO, April 23d, 1862

EDITOR OREGONIAN

Dear Sir On to day at this place opened the political canvass, and for the short notice that had been given, a good audience was in attendance The meeting was called to order by appointing T G Naylor, of Forest Grove, to the Chair The Chairman announced the order of speaking as fixed by the candidates. Mr. McBride opened in a clear, plain and masterly speech showing conclusively that there are now but two parties in the country —one the Union party and the other the secession party Mr McBride made for himself many friends, and inspired confidence in the Union party Then came Judge Wait, who told us that he was a good Union man, that he was a candidate against his will, that he had told his friends before his nomination that all he wanted was to be let alone—showing that he (Wait) had carefully read Jeff Davis' message to the rebel Congress, and had been favorably impressed with Jeff's let alone policy! He argued that the Crittenden Compromise would satisfy the South. He said that he would carry it there on the point of the bayonet What an idea! force the Crittenden Compromise on the South against their will at the point of the bayonet' This, however, seemed to be the logical conclusion of Judge Wait's argument Judge Wait said that the South and rebels generally believed that this war was an abolition war, and was prosecuted for the abolition of slavery beauty and booty The Judge said that they were deceived into the belief, did not tell us how they had been deceived, by whom, nor where He would undeceive them; and if he should be elected to Congress, I suppose that surely would be the result—the South would be undeceived. The Judge denied the right of a State to secede from the Union, said that it was against law, and that this Union "must be preserved at any price and at all hazards" that he would not let a State go, for their good and for our good, he would keep them

The only error of the Administration, according to Judge Wait, was, that the cannon and muskets were loaded with something else than the Crittenden Compromise Poor old grandmother Wait disgusted the Union men with his professed devotion to the Union, and caused his sympathizing secession friends to drop their heads. What a retribution awaits him! How the mighty have fallen! What a spectacle to behold, a man so absorbed with the prejudices of party, so narrow, contracted and selfish, that he will place himself in a position to damn his after life, destroy his usefulness, and render himself a nullity and and a by word among his fellows! Poor Wait! from the bottom of my heart I pity him!

After Judge Wait concluded, A C Gibbs, Esq, took the stand, and administered to his friend Wait a dose that I think will never be forgotten by that candidate for Congress I have not time nor room to give you an outline of his speech It was forcible, pointed, blunt, and at times eloquent, and told with powerful effect upon his audience.

This county is all right, and the Union men will vote to a man the straight ticket. Tell the independent candidate for State Printer who resides somewhere in or near Portland, that there will be nary vote in this region of country for him that the farmers have taken his advice heretofore given, that "farmers had better let politics alone," and I think that he will come to the conclusion that he had better let politics alone too, when he sees the file of Oregon farmers calling soon at his office

A CARD.

I would say to my friends in the Willamette Valley and to all who are afflicted with disease of the bronchial tubes and lungs that Dr J. Flattery will be in Portland about April 5th and will be prepared to relieve and cure those who are thus afflicted, Dr Flattery's system of inhalation has accomplished wonders My condition was well known to many in Portland and the adjacent country, when I left Oregon in the Fall of '59 My friends supposed that I could not live long Through this system of inhalation as prescribed by Dr Flattery, I have so far recovered as to be able to many months to pursue my business with energy and satisfaction. I could also tell of persons here and in the Sacramento Valley who were considered incurable, who have by Dr F's system, been restored to their friends and to the enjoyment of health I say to the afflicted, try this new system and live.

H B PINE.

N B —The above card was not asked for by Dr Flattery nor does he know that it is written It is prompted by gratitude and a regard for the afflicted H B P

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to Brown's Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges let the Cold Cough or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice See advertisement

How to go to the Mines.—Miners who now purpose going to Salmon River, Rhodes Creek and the other mining regions should not start out unprepared to travel through a cold and starved out country, for it is known by all who [illegible] the Cascades that the country is now bare of all kinds of provisions by its supplies having been cut off by the long stoppage of navigation The safest way would be for all who wish to go through comfortably and in time with their pack to call at HARKER BROTHERS, opposite the [illegible] Wharf and supply themselves with Flour, Bacon, Beans, Groceries, Blankets, Clothing, Rubber and Nailed Boots and all other articles necessary for mining purposes before they embark for the land of Promise

Agency Notice.—Mr L P FISHER is our only authorized Agent in San Francisco to receive advertisements and transact business for the DAILY and WEEKLY OREGONIAN Office—No 171½ Washington street, nearly opposite Maguire's Opera House

From Colville

We take the following from a letter in the Mountaineer dated Colville, March 25th, 1862

"For news I am at a loss to know what to write you, except that we are apprehending some difficulty from the Indians again on the Pend Oreille It seems that a man has been missed at the Pend Oreille, and it is supposed he has been killed by the Indians in consequence of which Maj Curtis has made some demand from the Indians which it is supposed will bring on a disturbance but if so, they will find that they have got a man they cannot trifle with Maj C is a good officer and if he has a chance will distinguish himself We have had a sad affair at our garrison here in the death of Quartermaster J B Wing, of the California Volunteers who came to his death by his own hands, on last Saturday evening by shooting himself with a pistol He put the weapon into his mouth and fired the ball coming out just back of the right ear and killing him instantly This must have occurred about 10 o'clock, P M but was not known until the next morning, when his room was broken open and he was found dead The deceased since his residence here has been very intemperate, and his excess had been such as to bring on the delirium tremens, under the influence of which he committed the act. Yours truly, C. S M

Another letter, dated March 9th, has the following Nearly all the farmers in the Colville Valley are going to the Salmon River mines One of our Lieutenants killed a man the other day, and is now in custody of the Sheriff The offender is represented as a hard case, and should he get justice done him it is difficult to say what will be his fate."

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR L J CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice In the schools of France the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science and they occupy with others an equally lofty position in the profession Ricord is an illustrious example a shining light among the philosophical stars of this age in Europe and Dr Czapkay has fully ... him in this country as a proof of which the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma and the honorary ad eundem degree Selecting this as his field of ... although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army for more extended labors Dr L J Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company San Francisco We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding please enclose $10 in their letters and they will get immediate attention to their cases Address, L J CZAPKAY, M D, San Francisco Cal June20dawly

Information of James B. Hughes Wanted.

JAMES B. HUGHES is supposed to have been a resident of Portland Oregon For about ten years past his friends in Michigan have not heard from him A short time since it was understood by his friends in Michigan that he had died some time about the date of March; 1861 and that he left a large amount of property In person he was a short and thick set man of dark complexion sharp features and by occupation a lumber dealer and commission merchant owning extensive lumber and flouring mills — His present age if he was living, would be about forty ... years He went to California in 1849 His former residence was Chicago Ill It is supposed that he left a wife and two children but that they are since deceased.

Should any citizen of Oregon or Washington Territory or California possess any knowledge of this James B Hughes and will communicate the same to the editor of this paper or the undersigned a great favor will be conferred, which will be duly acknowledged

Ben Blower's Story.

(Concluded.)

"How long I may have remained there senseless, I don't know. The doctors have since told me that it must have been a sort of a fit—more like an apoplexy than a swoon, for the attack finally passed off in a sleep.—Yes, I slept—I know that, for I dreamed—dreamed a heap o' things afore I awoke. There is but one dream, however, that I have been able to recall with distinctness, and that must have come on shortly before I recovered my consciousness. My resting place through the night had been, as I have told you, at the far end of the boiler. Well, I now dreamed that the man hole was still open; and what seems curious, rather than laughable, if you take it in connection with other things, I fancied that my legs had been stretched in the long walk I had taken the evening before, that they now reached the whole length of the boiler, and extended through the opening.

At first (in my dreaming reflections,) it was a comfortable thought that no one could now shut up the man hole without awakening me; But soon it seemed as if my feet, which were on the outside, were becoming drenched in the storm which had originally driven me to seek this shelter. I felt the chilling rain upon my extremities. They grew colder and colder, and their numbness gradually extended to other parts of my body. It seemed, however, that it was only the under side of my person that was thus strangely visited. Laid upon my back, and it must have been a species of nightmare that afflicted me, for I knew at least that I was dreaming, yet felt it impossible to rouse myself. A violent fit of coughing restored at last my powers of volition. The water, which had slowly risen around me, had rushed into my mouth. I awoke to hear the rapid strokes of the pump, which was driving into the boiler! My whole condition—no not all of it—not yet—my present condition flashed with a new horror upon me. But I did not again swoon. The choking sensation which had made me faint when I first discovered how I was entombed, gave way to a livelier, though less overpowering emotion. I shrieked even as I started from my slumber. The previous discovery of the closed aperture, with the instant oblivion that followed, seemed only a part of my dream, and I threw my arms about and looked eagerly for the opening by which I had entered the horrid place—yes, looked for it, and felt for it, though it was a terrible conviction that it was closed—a second time brought home to me—that prompted my frenzied cry. Every sense seemed to have tenfold acuteness, yet no one to act in unison with another. I shrieked again and again—imploringly, desperately, savagely. I filled the hollow chamber with my cries, till its iron walls seemed to tingle around me. The dull strokes of the accursed pump seemed only to mock at while they deadened my screams.

"At last I gave myself up. It is the struggle against our fate which frenzies the mind. We cease to fear when we cease to hope. I gave myself up and then I grew calm!

"I was resigned to die—resigned even to my mode of death. It was not, I thought, so very new, after all, as to awaken unwonted horror in a man. Thousands have been sunk to the bottom of the ocean shut up in the holds of vessels—beating themselves against the battened hatches—dragged down from the upper world shrieking, not for life, but for death only beneath the eye and amid the breath of heaven. Thousands have endured that appalling kind of suffocation. I would die only as many a better man had died before me. I could meet such a death. I said so—I thought so—I felt so—felt so, I mean, for a minute, or more—ten minutes it may have been—or but an instant of time, I know not, nor does it matter if I could compute it. There was a time, then, when I was resigned to my fate. But, good God! was I resigned to it in the shape in which it came next to appall. Stranger, I felt that water growing hot about my limbs, though it was but middling deep. I felt it, and in the same moment heard the roar of the furnace that was to turn it into steam before it could get deep enough to drown one!

"You shudder—it was hideous. But did I shrink and shrivel, and crumble down upon that iron floor, and lose my senses in that horried agony of fear? No! though my brain swam and the life blood that curdled at my heart seemed about to stagnate there for ever, still I knew! I was too hoarse—too hopeless from my previous efforts, to cry out more. But I struck—feebly at first, and then strongly—with my clenched fists against the sides of the boiler. There were people moving near who must hear my blows! Could I not hear the grating of chains, the shuffling of feet, the very rustle of a rope—hear them all, within a few inches of me? I did—but the gurgling water that was growing hotter and hotter around my extremities, made more noise within the steaming cauldron, than did my frenzied blows against its sides.

"Latterly I had not changed my position, but now the growing heat of the water made me plash to and fro, lifting myself wholly out of it was impossible, but I could not remain quiet. I stumbled upon something—it was a mallet! a chance tool the smith had left there by accident. With what wild joy did I seize it—with what renewed confidence did I now deal my first blows with it against the walls of my prison. But scarce had I intermitted them for a moment when I heard the clang of the door as the fireman flung it wide to feed the flames that were to torture me. My knocking was unheard, though I could hear them toss the sticks into the furnace beneath me, and drive to the door when his infernal oven was fully crammed.

"Had I yet a hope? I had, but it rose in my mind side by side with the fear that I might become the agent of preparing myself a more frightful death. Yes! when I thought of that furnace with its fresh fed flames curling beneath the iron on which I stood, there arose in my quickened consciousness a more frightful death even than that of being boiled alive! Had I discovered that mallet but a short time sooner—but no matter, I would by its aid resort to the only expedient now left.

"It was this, I remembered having a marlingspike in my pocket, and in less time than I have taken in hinting at the consequences of thus using it, I had made an impression on the sides of the boiler, and soon succeeded in driving it through. The water gushed through the aperture—would they see it? No! the jet could only play against a wooden partition which must hide it from view, and it must trickle down upon the decks before the leakage would be discovered. Should I drive another hole to make that leakage greater? Why, the water within seemed already to be sensibly diminished—so hot had that become which remained. Should more escape, would I not hear it bubble and hiss upon the fiery plates of iron that were already scorching the soles of my feet?

"Ah! there's a movement—voices—I hear them calling for a crowbar! The bulkhead cracks as they pry off the planking. They have seen the leak, and are trying to get at it. Good God, why do they not first dampen the fuel—why do they not call for the—the—"

"Stranger, look at that finger! it can never regain its natural size—but that it has already done all the service that man could expect from so humble a member—Sir, that hole would have been plugged up on the instant unless I jammed my finger through!

"I heard the cry of horror as they saw it without—the shout to drown the fire—the first stroke of the cold water pump. They say, too, that I was concious when they took me out—but I—I—remember nothing more till they they brought a julep to my bed side afterwards, and that julep—

"Cooling was it?"

"Stranger!"

Ben turned away his head and wept. He could say no more.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY
Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases, and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., Late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

☞ Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

OFFICE HOURS—From 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

☞ Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Consultations, by letter or otherwise, FREE.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco

Of all diseases the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures.—Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who, having recovered their former health, and impelled by gratitude, make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statement are authenticated by a Notary Public. Their details [illegible] importance command their publicity, and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of unrestrained passion in youth; depressed in body and mind; unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances, months, of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture; and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy. As a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by strictly obeying all his directions and advice, my head became clear and my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groin, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful exciting and at times pleasurable dreams at night followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate against falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that [illegible] under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

B. F. FILLY.

State of California, County of San Francisco.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this [illegible] day of April A. D. 1860. Signed

[L. S.] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE, June [illegible]

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir, I [illegible] last of your medicine and do not think I shall [need] more as I feel very well except that I have not got my strength yet but soon will with the [illegible]. It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I [left] your Institute with my constitution, as I thought entirely [ruined] and never thought you would be able to [cure me] perfectly but thought you might be able to do [something] to ease the pain in my back and head, and [my] nerves so that I would not get excited and [illegible] everything. Now that you know what I expected, you [can] judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery, [the] symptoms and the removal of those sores and [illegible] my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the [stop]page of those emissions which you said were [the] cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is greatest my joy or my surprise, for except not [having] got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel. Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your [illegible] think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody [can be] benefited you may put this letter in the new[spaper]. I remain gratefully yours,

THOMAS [illegible]

Thankfulness is the incentive to [illegible]

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of [illegible] I wish to lay before the public a case which [illegible] commendation not only as an act of scientific skill, but [of] humanity also. About two years ago, I [illegible] causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of [illegible] which owing to my inability to meet the [conse]quent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the [discour]agement which I met with on attempting it, seem[ed] such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the [skill of the] physician. I was frequently while in pursuit of [illegible] thrown down to the ground without the slightest [warning] and although insensible to the agonies, I yet [illegible] miseries of my life and soon learned to look upon [illegible] would render assistance or shelter me from [illegible] men who sought to prolong the existence of my [illegible]. While in this state and having, previous to my [illness] tasted the sweets of life I once more was induced [to try] seeking aid of a physician and by rec[ommendation called] upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my [illegible] and of my inability to reward him for his services, [all] of which however he at once undertook my case, and [by] the blessing of God I was once more restored to [perfect] health. Unable to reward him for the boon [illegible] present and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I [feel it] due to myself and all afflicted to make the case [public in] order that those in need of medical advice may find a [physi]cian in whom every confidence can be placed.
